

#405 The First Oswald Head Wound – John F. Kennedy: The foremost person in the 7th Head vs. 8th Head Space Race to the Moon

There was one person who defined for the world the nature and focus of the Space Race between the 7th Head Red Beast USSR and 8th Head Scarlet Beast United States. That person was U.S. President John F. Kennedy, and the nature of the Space Race would be focused on a race to the moon. On May 25, 1961, Kennedy laid out his challenge to America to land a man on the moon (and bring him safely back again) by the end of the decade of the 1960's.

Here is a chronology of key events leading up to Kennedy's historic speech to a Joint Session of Congress.

- October 4, 1957 – Sputnik launched, launching the Space Race.
- April 12, 1961 – Yuri Gagarin of the Soviet Union becomes the first person in space.
- May 5, 1961 – Alan Shepard becomes the first American in space.
- May 25, 1961 – President John F. Kennedy's historic "moon" speech.

Here is #405–Doc 1, which is about Kennedy's May 25, 1961, speech.

Key Understanding: John F. Kennedy was the foremost person in the 7th head vs. 8th head space race to the moon. John F. Kennedy defined the nature and focus of the Space Race in his historic speech to a joint session of Congress on May 25, 1961, by challenging America to land a man on the moon by the end of the decade of the 1960's. Because of this, perhaps more so than any other person in world history, Kennedy is tied directly to the Revelation 17:10 "short space" Space Race between the 7th Head Red Beast USSR and 8th Head Scarlet Beast United States. The July 20, 1969, Apollo 11 landing on the moon essentially won the Space Race for the United States over the Soviet Union and was a foretelling first step in America's eventual Cold War head wound defeat of the 7th Head Red Beast Soviet Union.

On May 25, 1961, President John F. Kennedy announced before a special joint session of Congress the dramatic and ambitious goal of sending an American safely to the moon and back before the end of the decade of the 1960's.

Revelation 17:10-11 (KJV) . . . and THE OTHER [the Seventh Kingdom, the USSR] IS NOT YET COME; and when he cometh, he [the Seventh Kingdom, the USSR] must continue A SHORT SPACE. [The Space Race defined the Cold War competition between the USSR, the 7th Head (or Kingdom), and the United States, the 8th Head (or Kingdom), and John F. Kennedy on May 25, 1961, defined the Space Race victor as the first nation to put men on the moon.]

11 And THE BEAST [out of the Pit in Rev. 17:08, the United States of America] that was, and is not, even HE IS THE EIGHTH, and is of the seven, and goeth into perdition.
