

#419 Ending the USSR to Build the Second Babel – The Double Fantasy Death of Lennon, part 1

Double Fantasy was entirely connected to John Lennon’s December 8, 1980, death. Double Fantasy was the name of John Lennon’s “comeback” album, his first in five years. It was originally released on November 17, 1980. The following facts come from various sources regarding Double Fantasy and the events of December 8, 1980, the day of Lennon’s murder.

- Double Fantasy was Lennon’s last album before his death. It was made with Yoko Ono.
- Shortly after 1 p.m. on December 8, 1980, John and Yoko started another long interview in their apartment with a radio producer from San Francisco to promote their new Double Fantasy album.
- Around 5 p.m., John Lennon and Yoko Ono left their apartment in the historic Dakota on Central Park West in New York City to go to their recording studio to supervise the transfer of some of the Double Fantasy album numbers to singles.
- David Geffen, the head of the label that Lennon and Ono had signed with, stopped by the recording studio to tell the couple that Double Fantasy had just gone gold.

- During that day, Mark David Chapman walked twenty blocks up to the Dakota on West 72nd Street. He had with him Lennon’s Double Fantasy album – but something was missing. He halted his progress toward Lennon’s selected place of execution and dived into a bookstore to emerge with a red paperback copy of J. D. Salinger’s The Catcher in the Rye. On the title page he wrote: ‘To Holden Caulfield from Holden Caulfield,’ and below that: ‘This is my statement.’ He arrived at the Dakota and saw some of the Dakota’s star residents and visitors, including Lauren Bacall, Paul Simon, and Mia Farrow, arrive or depart. But he was waiting for John Lennon. Soon after 5 p.m., with the long interview over, John and Yoko emerged to wait for their limousine to take them to another working session at their recording studio. A small crowd gathered as John and Yoko were waiting on their limousine. Finally, the paths of Mark David

John Lennon and Yoko Ono outside the Dakota

Chapman and John Lennon had crossed. But Chapman did not draw his gun. Instead, with a sheepish smile on his face, he merely handed Lennon his copy of Double Fantasy and John signed it. He and Yoko soon went on to the recording studio. Mark David Chapman waited another five hours. [continued in part 2]

Key Understanding: Double Fantasy. The Lord ordained that Double Fantasy surround the December 8, 1980, end of John Lennon, because the death of Lennon was prophetically coupled with the December 8, 1991, “time of the end” of Lenin’s Soviet Union.

Daniel 12:7-9 (KJV) And I heard THE MAN CLOTHED IN LINEN, which was upon the waters of the river, when he held up his right hand and his left hand unto heaven, and sware by him that liveth for ever that it shall be for a time, times, and an half; and when he shall have accomplished to scatter the power of the holy people, all these things shall be finished.

8 And I heard, but I understood not: then said I, O my Lord, WHAT SHALL BE THE END OF THESE THINGS? [The end of John Lennon occurred on 12/8/1980, and the end of Soviet Leninism occurred 11 years later on 12/8/1991.]

9 And he said, Go thy way, Daniel: for the words are closed up and sealed till THE TIME OF THE END.

John Lennon autographing Double Fantasy for his killer, Mark David Chapman

<< Previous

Main Page and List of Unsealing Summaries

Next >>