

#513 The Rise of Michael the Archangel – The Time of Troubles, part 2, Timelines of Russian History show the prominence of The Time of Troubles

The period of 1598-1613 is very specifically known as The Time of Troubles. [Some sources might use 1605 as the beginning year of The Time of Troubles, attaching it to the death of Tsar Boris Godunov, rather than the 1598 death of Tsar Theodore I, Ivan the Terrible’s feeble-minded son, and last heir of the Rurik Dynasty.]

Before we get to the story of The Time of Troubles, let’s first look at Timelines of Russian History as a comment on the prominence attached by history to The Time of Troubles.

Here are #513–Doc 1 and #513–Doc 2, which are general Timelines of Russian History. The specific purpose in drawing our attention to such general timelines is to show that The Time of Troubles was not an obscure event in Russian history, but rather was such a definitive and dramatic period of time that it is usually included in even the most general of Russian timelines, whereas other momentous events might be excluded.

Key Understanding:
The Time of Troubles in Russia in the early 1600’s was a part of the fulfillment of Daniel 12:1. The Time of Troubles ended in 1613 with the advent of Mikhail Romanov to the throne of Russia, which birthed the Romanov Dynasty that ended in 1917.

Scene from the Time of Troubles in Russia, by Russian painter Sergey Vasilyevich Ivanov (1864-1910)

The scene is that of the usurper False Dmitry II at Tushino, a village a short distance from Moscow. During the Time of Troubles, False Dmitry II and his supporters settled in Tushino, between 1608-1610. From here, False Dmitry II was laying siege to the Moscow Kremlin.

Tsar Michael Romanov

Daniel 12:1 (KJV) And at that time SHALL MICHAEL [the Archangel] STAND UP, the great prince which standeth for the children of thy people: and there shall be A TIME OF TROUBLE, such as never was since there was a nation even to that same time: and at that time thy people shall be delivered, every one that shall be found written in the book.
