Daniel 8:23 (NIV) "In THE LATTER PART OF THEIR REGN, when rebels have become completely wicked, A [competing] STERN-FACED KING [represented by Adolf Hitler and Nazi Germany through the event of Kristallnacht, November 9-10-11, 1938, which can be considered a beginning to the Holocaust], a master of intrigue, will arise.

Key Understanding: Great Britain's anti-Jewish role of November 9, 1938. On November 9, 1938, the date that Kristallnacht would erupt in Nazi Germany, instantly stimulating the desire in even more Jews to exodus en masse from Germany to the land of Palestine, the Woodhead Commission in Great Britain issued its report regarding the partition of Palestine between the Jews and Arabs, which would lead to the British policy of restricting Jewish emigration to Palestine.

1918 – Jewish immigration. We are going through Palestine history, spanning the subjects of 1900 - Zionism through 1938 - Woodhead Commission (immediately followed by 1939 - Great Britain restricting Jewish immigration). This Unsealing encompasses . . .

Palestine history: 1918 - Jewish immigration

After World War I ended in 1918, Jews began to migrate to Palestine, which was set aside as a British mandate with the approval of the League of Nations in 1922.

After World War I, the terms of the Balfour Declaration were included in the mandate for Palestine. The mandate entrusted Great Britain with administering Palestine and with assisting the Jewish people in "reconstituting their national home in that country."

Jewish immigrants, undated

Large-scale Jewish settlement and development of extensive Zionist agricultural and industrial enterprises in Palestine began during the British mandatory period, which lasted until 1948. The Jewish community, or Yishuv, increased tenfold during this era, especially during the 1930's, when large numbers of Jews fled Europe to escape persecution by the Nazis. Tel Aviv became Palestine's largest all-Jewish city, dozens of other towns and villages were founded, and hundreds of Jewish agricultural collectives (kibbutzim) and cooperatives were established.

Many Jewish political parties founded in Eastern Europe as part of the world Zionist movement developed bases in mandatory Palestine. They included labor, orthodox religious, and nationalist groups whose leaders emigrated from Europe and after 1948 became political leaders and officials in the new Jewish state.

The Yishuv extended its institutions after World War I. Among these institutions was an assembly with a National Council that managed the community's day-to-day affairs in education, health, social welfare, and other services. Jewish religious life was supervised by a Rabbinical Council that controlled marriage, divorce, and other family matters. Local government institutions were also developed to run the city of Tel Aviv and many smaller Jewish settlements. The educational system, cultivating Hebrew language and culture, expanded, and the Hebrew University in Jerusalem was founded.

The World Zionist Organization and the Jewish Agency for Palestine assisted the Yishuv by raising funds abroad, recruiting Jewish immigrants, and seeking political support from Western governments.

YEAR	THE NUMBER OF JEWS MIGRATING
1920 (September-October)	5.514
1921	9.149
1922	7.844
1923	7.421
1924	12.856
1925	33.801
1926	13.081
1927	2.713
1928	2.178
1929	5.249

The official announcement of the Balfour Declaration marked the beginning of a large and rapid migration of Jews to Palestine. This table shows the number of Jews who immigrated to Palestine between 1920-1929. During this period, approximately 100,000 Jews entered Palestine.

#2008 The Yom Kippur War and the Abomination of Desolation – The post-World War II U.S. waxing great   Page 2 of 3
toward the South and toward the East as a second Syria/Antiochus IV Epiphanes, part 267, Great Britain's anti-Jewish role of November 9, 1938, (xi), Toward the Woodhead Commission's report: 1918 - Jewish immigration

#2008 The Yom Kippur War and the Abomination of Desolation – The post-World War II U.S. waxing great   Page 3 of 3
toward the South and toward the East as a second Syria/Antiochus IV Epiphanes, part 267, Great Britain's anti-Jewish role of November 9, 1938, (xi), Toward the Woodhead Commission's report: 1918 - Jewish immigration